Track record for Jennys Jammies – Grand slam for Dinning

Scarborough, Maine (August 21, 2009) – Jennys Jammies equaled one of Scarborough Downs' oldest track records on Friday (August 21) as the four-year-old mare cruised to the finish line timed in 2:00 flat with driver Rob Dinning calling the shots behind the Fred Ward, Jr. trainee.

Dinning controlled the action from the get-go as he deftly avoided congestion and confusion by barreling headlong to the lead through Scarborough's first turn. The tandem were never seriously threatened from that point forward, surviving a cursory late stretch challenge from the pocket-sitting Ironhorse (Leigh Fitch) en route to eventual enshrinement in the local record books.

Scarborough's track record for four-year-old trotting mares was set in 1993 by DD's Copter and driver Raymond Tremblay – a monumental effort for that era of state of Maine harness racing – and had stood the test of time for fully 16 seasons.

Driver Dinning held the hot hand at Scarborough on Friday winning four races from the nine race program to follow up on his three-win performance on Thursday evening. Dinning currently resides in second place on the Scarborough Downs leader's board with 115 seasonal wins and now trails perennial powerhouse Drew Campbell by 23 tallies.

Scarborough Downs proudly features live harness racing every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening at 4:15 pm (EDT). The popular Sunday matinees feature a 1:30 pm post time.
