Katahdin Boy wins at first asking in Maine Sires at Scarborough Downs

Scarborough, Maine – Katahdin Boy made his first lifetime start a winning one as the two-year-old son of Computer Scooter rolled to his maiden victory in Maine Sire Stakes competition on Saturday night (July 25) at Scarborough Downs. Catch driven by leading North American UDRS driver Shawn Gray, the Shorty Crochere trained colt was never hurried at any portion, appearing to race the entire mile on cruise control before coasting to the 2:00.4 win.

The front end once again proved the place to be as Switz N Swag controlled the tempo in the second Stakes division. The son of Fast Company displayed prominent strategic speed in this mile as he posted a robust thirty-second third-panel to stymie his combatants -- living up to his moniker as he smartly swaggered into the Scarborough winner's circle with driver Kevin Switzer proudly in tow.

Pembroke Joe Dunn made good for the Valerie Grondin Stable in the third Stakes split of the day – a day which saw her Bangor based outfit send an unprecedented seven stakes colt to the post. This son of Neutralize sat the perfect pocket trip throughout the mile before pouncing up the pylons to secure the victory with heath Campbell calling the shots.

Maine Stakes action returns to Scarborough Downs on Thursday (July 30) as the three-year-old filly pacing division revisits the seaside harness oval.

Scarborough Downs proudly features live harness racing every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening at 4:30 pm (EDT). The popular Sunday matinees feature a 1:30 pm post time.
